

How does it work?

After you have applied the community trigger, we will check that your case meets the criteria:

- 1) Three reports by the same person within six months or, five reports involving the same location, culprit or problem from more than one individual or group within six months
- 2) Trigger application made in a reasonable time – allowing time for action to have been taken.

You'll be contacted about your application within three days.

If you have been successful in applying the trigger we'll let you know what happens next within seven days, and we aim to let you know the outcome within three weeks.

What is anti-social behaviour?

It can be any behaviour which makes you feel harassed, alarmed or distressed, and can affect anyone, including community groups and businesses.

Graffiti, littering, damage to property, noise, street drinking and people hanging around outside shops or homes causing a nuisance, can all be reported as anti-social behaviour to the council, police or housing providers.

What is the community trigger?

The community trigger is for you if you feel that no one is dealing with the anti-social behaviour problems you are experiencing.

If you have already reported the problem to the council, police or housing provider, the community trigger is a way for you to ask the agencies to review your case. It will make sure we continue to work together to try to solve the problem.

I feel intimidated by street drinkers

Rubbish is left in the playground

My shop windows get smashed

Our bins are set on fire

Drunks urinate in my doorway

Car stereos keep me awake

I get graffiti on my wall
